A Rising Need

Over 80% of educators an increase in student behavioral challenges since COVID (National Center for Educational Statistics, 2024)

Educators have taken on much of the stress of their students' increased needs and burnout rates have increased (RAND, 2024).

Most frequently reported behaviors include physical and verbal aggression, refusal of work, and disrespect towards educators and peers (NCES Survey, 2023).

*Student behavior is directly
tied to relationships –*
with educators
with schools
with their peers
with themselves.

If we are not using relational discipline practices, we are setting students up for future failure.

Turn & Talk:

What causes us not to be in the “With”
quadrant?

If there's time:

What steps could we take to be in the “With”
more?

Personal, Proactive, Progressive

Personal:

Understanding our Students

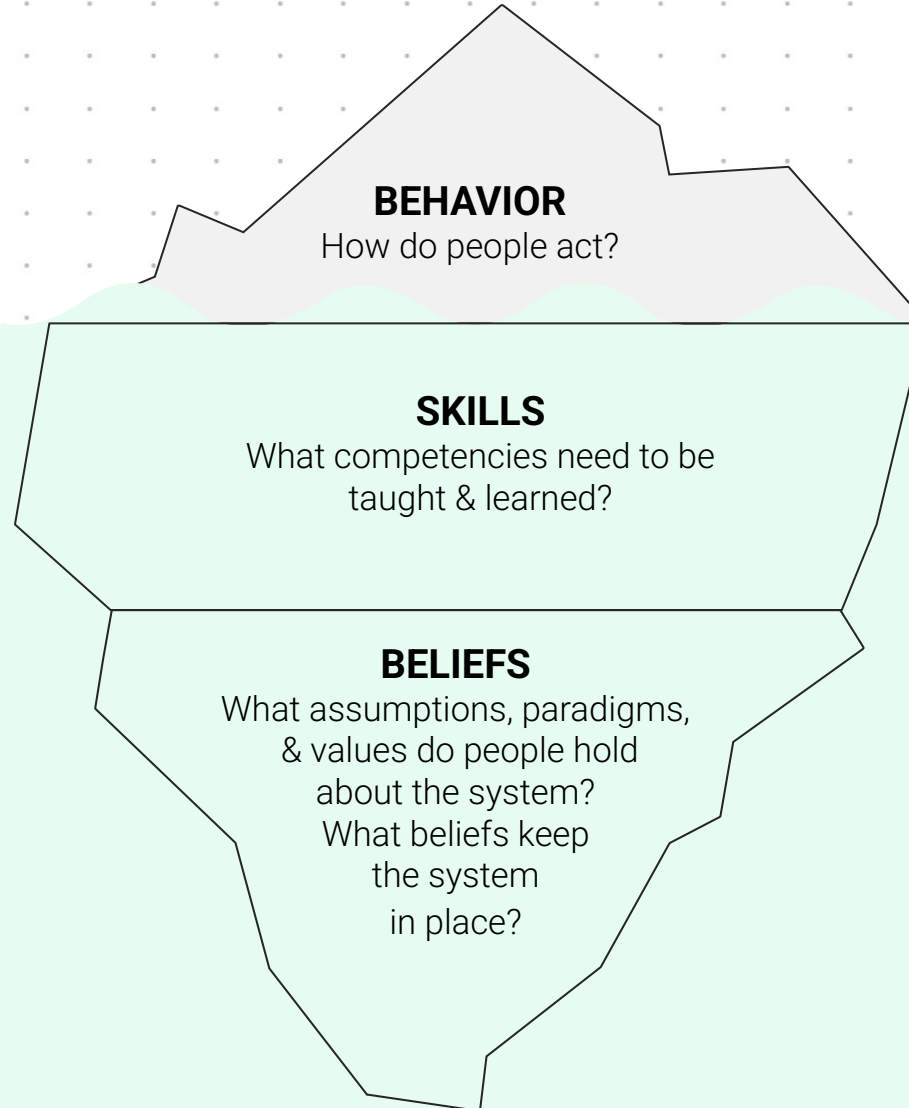

Don't take it personal,

GET PERSONAL.

The Iceberg Model

A graphic on the left side of the slide depicts a grey, jagged mountain-like shape representing 'BEHAVIOR' floating on a light green wavy base. The background of the entire slide is a light grey grid. In the top left, there are overlapping green, blue, and purple circular shapes. In the bottom right, there are overlapping yellow, orange, and green circular shapes.

BEHAVIOR

WHY do people act?

WHY do people act?

- Avoid something not desired
- Obtain access to something desired

Obtain

Avoid

Obtain

Avoid

*Shouting out answers
in class.*

Obtain

Avoid

Putting in your headphones while others are talking.

Obtain

Avoid

*"I'm tired."
(Then head goes down)*

Obtain

Being rude to others.

Obtain

Avoid

"Can I go to the bathroom?" (Again)

“You have to understand why a behavior occurs before you can change it. Turns out why people behave the way they do is predictable, and if it is predictable, it is addressable.”

 Pat Friman

Don't take it personal,
GET PERSONAL.

Half of students report
*their teachers don't care
about them as people.*

they will eventually come around.

Proactive:

Setting up a Safe and Predictable Environment

All behavior is directly related to the ENVIRONMENT
in which it occurs.

Turn and Talk:

What are other environmental factors that might cause people to use unskillful behaviors?

If there's time:

What might they be trying to achieve with those unskillful behaviors?

“When a flower doesn’t bloom you
fix the environment in which it grows, not the flower.”

 Alexander Den Hiejen

What happens when people are unclear about what is expected of them to be successful?

What is a behavioral expectation?

An agreed upon set of behaviors that everyone in a given setting owns responsibility for

Clear and observable

Adding in Staff Expectations

	Student	Teacher/Staff
Responsible	Arrive every day on time Turn in assignments when due Follow directions promptly	Be timely with lessons and activities Provide clear timelines and due dates Use Give Me 5 then clearly state directions
Respectful	Use school appropriate language Help others when needed Listen actively to others Share the AIR (be self-aware)	Listen when students have ideas or worries Check in with students often Create time for discussions and activities Plan Body Breaks into schedule
Engaged	Focus on the lesson/activity Share materials and technology Participate in lessons, activities Be open to feedback and push myself to grow and learn	Plan effective units and lessons Use a variety of teaching and learning options Be open to ideas and feedback Provide helpful, clear feedback and grading

Classroom Matrix Example

Laketown Elementary is a community of learners where every child matters and every moment counts.
We show Wildcat PRIDE by being Peaceful, Respectful, Inclusive, Determined, and Engaged.

	Direct Instruction	Group/Partner Work	Individual Work	Transitions
Peaceful	Focus on the teacher	Use a calm voice Show care for others	Keep control of your voice and body	Help keep classroom environment calm Line up quietly
Respectful	Use whole body listening	Acknowledge every group member's ideas	Respect others who are hard at work	Take care of your belongings Keep your place in line
Inclusive	Help others if needed	Let everyone contribute	Work independently for the success of the group	Allow for others to join in as needed
Determined	Focus on the instructions	Show grit	Use grit	Be quick
Engaged	Actively participate	Use listening skills	Stay focused Ask clarifying questions when needed	Know what is happening next

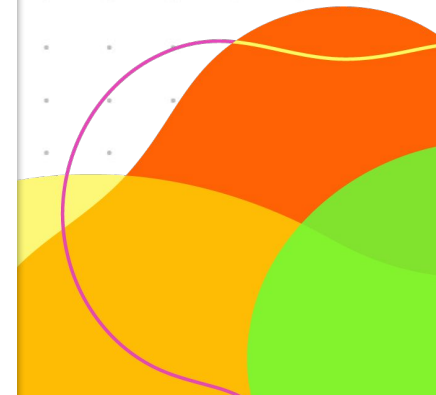

CharacterStrong-Aligned Classroom Behavior Matrix

	Entering & Leaving Class	Whole Group Instruction	Independent Work Time	Small Group Work Time	When I'm Upset/ Having a Bad Day
Be Kind 	I greet my teacher at the door	I use Strong Listening!	The way I work is respectful to others	I breathe it out, move it out, or talk it out when there is conflict	I am kind to myself
Be Strong 	I complete the entry task or exit ticket every day	I raise my hand to ask questions when I am confused	Use "yet" - "I don't understand this yet"	I help my groupmates reach their goals	I have the courage to ask for help
Be Well 	I check-in with myself to make sure I'm ready for learning	I am honest about what I need to learn	I take 3 deep breaths when I am frustrated	I name my emotions when there is conflict	Identify 1-3 things I am grateful for

“If everything is important,
then nothing is.”

 Patrick Lencioni

Defining What's Important

- What are 3 words for how you want your students/staff to feel?
 - What are 2 things that could get in the way of that?
 - What is 1 thing that tends to dysregulate you?
- A decorative graphic in the bottom right corner consisting of overlapping orange, yellow, and green circular shapes, with a thin purple line curving around them.

Classroom Matrix

	Entering Class	Teacher-Led Whole Group Instruction	Individual Work Time	Small Group Work Time	Leaving Class
Example: Be Responsible	Start the entry task	Refer to supplemental materials (notes, anchor charts)	Turn off distractions	Stay on task and redirect tangents	Leave your space nicer than you found it

“Look at a stonecutter hammering away at his rock, perhaps a hundred times without as much as a crack showing in it. Yet at the hundred-and-first blow it will split in two, and I know it was not the last blow that did it, but all that had gone before.”
